Msie Janis Plans Vacation Handiwork of French War Victims Arrives Here to Be Sold.

Something beautiful and joyous can come out of war after all. Let those who doubt go to the Old Knickerbocker Club, 319 Fifth avenue, and be convinced.

The rooms of the club are filled with dolls, big dolls, little dolls, boy dolls, girl dolls, dolls in silk attire and dolls in simple calico, dolls that are the images of famous prima donnas and well known historical characters and dolls that are just nobodies, but very cunning. And these dolls, which will make "Merry Christmas" for many a little American child, would never have been but for the war, for many of them were made and all of them were dressed by convalescent soldiers in Paris hospitals and artists from Poland and other countries, stranded in Paris and without funds and is thinking of the rest she will have at glad to turn to toy making for their

MISSION ROW AGAIN BOBS UP AT COUNCIL

Dean Grosvenor Offers Petition in Regard to Church Unity Basis.

PLANS TO ASSIST NEEDY

The Episcopal diocesan convention in Synod Hall came to an end yesterday after three days, in which Bishop Greer said the convention "has concerned itself with matters of more religious and practical importance than any General Convention covering three weeks time in my memory."

The disturbing question of the Panama Missionary Congress bobbed up again when Dean Grosvenor, leader of the broad churchmen, offered a petition to the General Convention asking what propesitions the Episcopal Church proposed to lay before the Protestant bodies of America as a basis of union with them. It recited the principles of the Church known as the "Lambeth Quadrilateral," containing four statements on which the church stands ready to unite with other religious bodies. Three of these statements have been accepted by other denominations, but the fourth has always been rejected.

The importance of this petition lies in the fact that in January a conference will be held of all unity commissions of all denominations in the United States and Canada. The Rev. Dr. Manning, rector of Trinity Church, who failed of election to the General Convention beelection to the General Convention be-cause of his opposition to the Panama congress, is head of the Garden City plan, and the broad church party seemed to fear that he would attempt to add somewhat to the conditions under which the Episcopal Church might unite with other denominations. Dean Grosvenor said in offering his petition that the church could not accept less than the four conditions, but he wanted to know if they would add anything to them.
The Social Service Commission of the Episcopal Church was authorized to get in touch with all other churches in New York with a view to proposing concerted action to aid those who are out of work because of old age or permanent ill-ness. To this commission was also given the task of providing for religious min-istration to Protestant inmates of Sing
